

Bears

By Leah

Published by Karigon Publishing

©2005

Brown Bears

Brown bears eat plants and animals. They are omnivores. They hibernate in winter. They live in Europe, Asia, and North America.

Grizzly Bears

They are good swimmers. They have big claws. They hibernate in winter. They weigh about 700 pounds.

Black Bears

The father bear does not help with the cubs. They stay with their mother for one and a half years. They eat fish and plants. The cubs follow their Mother,

Polar Bears

They eat fish and seals. They are white. They swim for distances. The polar bear makes a cave for her babies.